what would you do if you turned around, and saw me besides you not in a dream but in a song? would you float like a phantom or would you sing along?
don't know where it's going, don't know where it's flowing but I know it's FINDING YOU !

A couple of weeks ago The Go-Betweens finished their European tour, which was sold-out almost everywhere. Now, tuition releases "Finding You", the first official single from their Chart-Album "Oceans Apart".

Bittersweet, melodic and slightly sentimental – "Finding You" is another well-crafted pop-classic from Australia's finest composer-duo Forster & McLennan.

The "B-Side" features the wonderful country-like Song "Born to a Family" and also an unreleased live version from 2004 of the band's classic hit single Hits "Streets of Your Town".

Due to public demand The Go-Betweens will return to Europe for more shows in late October this year.

Press clips:

"Now in the sixth year of a comeback that's found them polishing the elusive, delicately rockin' romanticism of their Eighties masterworks, Australia's answer to R.E.M. are on a roll. With Grant McLennan and Robert Forster working up poetry both wise and wiseass over well-ornamented strumming, newcomers will hear a seductively pretty indie-pop record, while their still-ballooning cult can marvel at the sound of their iridescent melodies turning autumn-gold."
